

Honey was rescued by Merna, founder of Rocky's K9 Rescue in 2011. She had been starved and abused. Merna worked with her to start to re-nourish her and to also get her to begin to trust humans again. Honey had this beautiful heart; she forgave and began to learn to live again. Then a wonderful woman named Kylie adopted her and put her own heart and soul into Honey's rehabilitation and development. The photo says it all. Here are Kylies words in November 2012.

"Hello fellow dog lovers. Thanks to the amazing people with this group who dedicate their lives to dog rescue, stories like this exist. Honey was abused and starved. I adopted her in May 2011. We still work every day on building her confidence but every second is worth it. Adopting Honey was, without a doubt, the best and most life-changing decision of my life. Thank you for my baby- I feel blessed every second I spend with her."
